How a Bill becomes a Law:

Every law starts as an idea.

You can share your ideas with your senator or representative.

Find the path from the idea to the bill!

If your senator or representative likes
your idea, he or she will introduce it as a bill.

Bills go to committees
where legislators can learn and talk about the ideas.

The committee scheduled a hearing
so they can find out what people think about the bill.

People can come to share their ideas, and even write emails
and letters.

You can give testimony
saying you support the bill
becoming a law.

Draw yourself here!

Or, if you oppose a bill, you can give testimony saying
you are against it.

A bill has to pass through committees in both the House and Senate.
And all the senators and representatives get a chance to vote on the bill three times!
They want to make sure it's a good idea for a law.

The House and the Senate also come together to agree on what's in the final bill.

After the House and Senate come to an agreement,
the bill is then passed on to the Governor to be signed.
